Introduction
What is Ayurveda?

- Ayurveda is a Traditional East Indian Holistic Medical Science advocating natural methods to promote healing.
Ayurveda

Aim

• To promote and maintain health of healthy people
• To cure and remove illness and disease of ill people
• To Restore Balance
• To Improve quality of life
• To prolong longevity
Health

• Health is not just absence of disease
• Balance is Health
• Imbalance is Disease
• Balance is maintained at all levels including Physical, Biochemical, Intellectual, Emotional, Behavioral, Spiritual, Social, Environmental
Ayurveda
Individual Constitution

• Ayurveda considers each individual as a unique being with unique constitution.
• Constitution (Prakruti) is based on Dosha
• Constitution (Prakruti) is determined at the time of conception.
Three Doshas

• Doshas are defined as energetic principles that govern physiological and psychological functions of the body.
• There are three Doshas: Vata, Pitta and Kapha
Ayurveda
Dosha

- Vata: Principle of movement
- Pitta: Principle of digestion, absorption assimilation and transformation.
Prakruti (Constitution)

• At the time of conception the proportion in which three Doshas combine to form the embryo is your Prakruti.

• Prakruti is like your genetic code which is unique to you. This forms your constitution. It remains unchanged through your life.
Vikruti
(Imbalanced State)

• Current state of proportion of Vata, Pitta and Kapha is called Vikruti. It is the state of Imbalance. This can lead to disease over a period of time if not corrected.

• So Prakruti is state of Balance and Vikruti is state of Imbalance.
Causes of Disease

- Improper Diet
- Improper Life style
- Environment
Causes of Disease

• Genetic Predisposition (Prakruti)
• Improper use of Sensory faculties
• Obstruction to flow of Prana (Life Force)
• Going against natural intelligence and wisdom (Pragnaparadh)
Ayurvedic Concept of Cancer

- It is Tridoshic disease.
- Body’s Intelligence is altered
- Cellular Intelligence and cellular ego is altered.
- Prana (Life force) is not flowing properly as Srotas (the channels) are clogged up.
Ayurvedic Approach to cancer

- Restore cellular intelligence
- Restore Doshic balance
- Restore immunity and Strength (Ojas)
- Restore healthy environment
Effect of Cancer Treatments

• Altered Dosha
• Altered Agni (Digestive and metabolic “Fire”)
• Build up of Ama (Toxins)
Effect of cancer Treatment

• Altered Ojas (Immunity, Strength)
• Blocked flow of Prana (Life force)
• Altered Psychological function (Fear, Anxiety)
Management of After effect of Cancer Treatment

• Restoring Doshic Balance
• Restoring Agni (Digestive fire) and removing Ama (Toxins)
Management of After effect of Cancer Treatment

- Restoring Ojas (Immunity, Strength and cellular integrity)
- Restoring flow of Prana (Life force)
- Addressing Emotional and Psychological factors.
Ayurvedic Approach

• Healthy Diet
• Healthy Lifestyle
• Natural Herbs and Supplements
• Cleansing and Detoxing (Panchkarma)
Effect of Proper Diet and Life style

• Improves Agni (Digestion)
• Improves Immunity (Ojas)
• Improves Health: Physical, mental and emotional.
Diet

• Do not eat when you are not hungry. (Means your Agni i.e. digestive fire is not kindled yet)
• Eat mindfully
• Do not over eat
• Eat according to your Doshas
Dietary Guidelines
Vata Dosha

• Avoid Cold, Old, Stale, Processed, Raw, Dry, Uncooked food
• Avoid Cold, Carbonated beverages
• Eat Fresh, Warm, Moist, Cooked, Steamed or lightly sautéed food
Dietary Guidelines
Vata Dosha

• Avoid Pungent, Bitter and Astringent food but eat Sweet, Sour and Salty food.

• Avoid food that are cooling but eat food that are heating.
Dietary Guidelines
Pitta Dosha

- Avoid very hot, spicy, oily food.
- Avoid sour, salty and pungent food but eat bitter, astringent and sweet food.
- Avoid food that are heating but eat food that are cooling.
Dietary Guidelines
Kapha

• Avoid cold, heavy, oily, fatty, fried foods
• Eat Warm, Light, Steamed or dry and raw foods.
• Avoid Sweet, Sour and Salty foods
• Include Pungent, Bitter and Astringent foods
• Fasting once a week or so is good.
Diet
Liquid and water

• Don’t drink when you are hungry and don’t eat when you are thirsty.
• Drink warm liquids like herb tea and warm water
• Drink few sips of water along with your food but avoid drinking large quantity of water during or immediately after meal.
Agni (Fire)

- Agni is Biological Fire responsible for metabolism
- Healthy Agni is important for digestion, absorption, assimilation and transformation of nutrients into energy
- Agni is also responsible for transforming sensory perception into emotions.
Agni

- Impaired Agni leads to disease.
- As the food is not digested it results into Ama (toxins)
- Ama clogs the Srotas (Channels) causing obstruction to flow of Prana (Life force)
How to increase Agni

• Drinking Warm water
• Fasting
• Fresh ginger with a few drops of lime juice and pinch of salt just before meal.
How to increase Agni

• Herbal Tea like Ginger, Tulsi, CCF (Equal parts of Cumin, Coriander and Fennel)
• Certain Pranayama (Breathing Exercises) like Bhatrika (Bellows breathing), Kapalbhati etc
• Physical Exercise
Useful healthy tips

• Drink one glass of warm water first thing in the morning before you eat or drink anything. Throughout the day drink liquids slightly lukewarm or at room temperature.

• Drink CCF (Cumin, Coriander, Fennel in equal parts) tea two or three cups a day.
Ojas

• Governs Immunity and Cellular Integrity
• Improves strength
• Nourishes tissues.
How to Increase Ojas

- Ojas being essence of Kapha, diet that nourishes Kapha is to be consumed.
- Warm, slightly oily, Sweet, Sour and Salty food will nourish Kapha.
- Dairy, Ghee, Fresh Fruits, Nuts, Whole Grains, Meat are Kapha nourishing.
How to Increase Ojas

• Adequate Rest and Sleep
• Gentle exercise
• Pranayam Practices
• Meditation
• Panchkarma (Cleansing and Detoxing)
Life Style

- Plenty of rest
- Pace yourself
- Personal Hygiene
- Abhyanga or self massage with Sesame or Bala oil.
Life Style

• Exercise
• Pranayam (Breathing Practices)
• Meditation for 10-15 min in morning and evening
• Cultivate Mindfulness
• Adequate Sleep
Life Style

• Regularity and Routine (Balances Vata)
• Moderation (Balances Pitta)
• Variation and Stimulation (Balances Kapha)
• Panchkarma (Removes toxins, Improves Agni, Balances Doshas, Improves Ojas, Restores flow of Prana and Rejuvenates).
Daily Routine

• Wake up before sunrise. Vata people around 6:00 am, Pitta around 5:30 am and Kapha people around 4:30 or 5:00 am.

• Once you are out of bed look at your tongue in mirror to check for Ama (Coating on tongue) and think as to how your stomach feels and if previous night’s food was properly digested.
Daily Routine

• Brush your teeth, scrape your tongue.
• Wash your face, Splash cold water in your eyes, massage eyelid gently, blink eyelids and rotate eyes in all direction to feel more alert and fresh.
Daily Routine

• Drink one glass of warm water before drinking anything else. For Vata and Kapha hot water is better.
• Hopefully this would encourage mass peristalsis and bowel movement.
Daily Routine

• Do your morning yoga, breathing exercise and meditation.
• Spend at least fifteen to thirty minutes doing meditation.
Daily Routine

- Take a shower or bath with warm water.
- Before shower do Abhayanga (Oil message).
- Gently and lovingly rub warm oil all over your body and if possible allow twenty to thirty minutes before showering.
Daily Routine

• For Vata and kapha use Sesame oil and for Pitta sunflower oil. (Sesame oil should be organic, cold pressed and cold processed and food grade)
Daily Routine

• Do mouth wash with sesame oil to improve your gums and chew handful of sesame seeds to improve your teeth and bones.
• Now you are ready to eat light breakfast.
• Go about your normal day having lunch around noon.
• If possible make this as your main meal.
Daily Routine

• Drink warm herbal tea like ginger or tulsi and ginger tea half an hour before your meal to kindle Agni (Unless your Agni is very strong).
• By 6:00 or 7:00 pm you are ready for dinner. Have a light dinner according to your dosha.
• Engage into some relaxing activity like reading or socializing with family or watching TV.
Daily Routine

• Take Triphala half teaspoonful with warm cup of water before bed time. (Preferably about an hour or so after evening meal).
• Avoid watching TV very late at night.
• Drink cup of warm milk before bedtime.
Daily Routine

• Meditate for ten or fifteen minutes before going to bed.
• Bed time for Vata by 10:00pm, for Pitta around 10:30 and Kapha around 11:00 or later
Sleep

Sleep Requirement:
Vata person about seven to eight hours and may need some short snooze during the day to recharge.
Pitta Person about six to seven hours
Kapha person about six hours or less. Avoid naps during the day
Exercise

• Exercise up to half your capacity.
• The endpoint should be when beads of perspiration appear on your forehead, armpits or along the spine
Exercise
Type of exercise

• Yoga is very good exercise for all
• Swimming is good for all but cold water swimming may increase Vata and Kapha. Also chlorinated water may affect all three doshas.
• Brisk walking good for all.
Exercise
Type of exercise

• Vata people should avoid jumping, jogging
• Kapha people should get motivated to exercise vigorously, regularly at least five days a week.
• Pitta person should exercise moderation and back off by thirty percent
Exercise

• Best time to exercise is either early morning or early evening. Pitta person should avoid exercise during noon hours when sun is bright and very heating
Seasons and Dosha

- Fall and Early Winter are Vata seasons
- Winter and Spring are Kapha seasons
